

In this world life is not fair,
For the farmers provide food,
But we do not provide for them.
The things we eat have come on a journey
When that journey has finished,
The money doesn't go back,
Well not most of it for that is a fact!
But we can change the way we see the world,
The way we eat, drink and feed each other.
A small difference is all it takes,
I can see a better place.
Where we are all equal,
It does not matter about our race.
We are United Nations put together,
We are a world who can live so much better.
So, when you go out and see the symbol of Fairtrade,
Do not brush past it,
For that is my better place.
