

Poem of Elizabeth Knocker and Mairi Chisholm

My name is Elizabeth and my partner is Mairi,
A war came and it was very scary.
People were dying, our country nearly gone,
“Ah look out, there is a bomb!”
I wanted to do something to help people live,
Mairi is my best friend so that’s who I did it with.
We set up a First aid post,
We would never stop working even for toast.
Risking our lives we could die,
With fire surrounding us, we cant see the sky.
Helping our country is the best we could do,
Now goodbye everyone we love you!
